Rescue Mission Honors Business Partners

Boise Id.: The Boise Rescue Mission will honor three business partners for their exceptional support of Mission programs and services at their annual Business Partner Luncheon July 23rd at the City Light Home for Women and Children in Boise.

Special recognition will be given to Fredricksen Health Insurance, Denver Mattress Company, Boise, and Huntington Learning Centers. Additionally, Walmart Foundation representatives will attend the luncheon to present a check for $30,000.00 to the Mission.

"We are extremely grateful for all of our community support. These businesses represent the most generous community that I've ever been a part of" said Mission Director, Bill Roscoe adding, "We all know how tough the business climate is right now, yet these businesses continue their generous support of the Mission. As we serve more homeless and hungry people than ever, we sincerely appreciate their support"

Fredricksen Health Insurance sponsored the mission's annual golf tournament this year; Denver Mattress Company has provided television and print media advertising for the Mission for several years and Huntington Learning Center has provided a full scholarship to a teenager staying at the Mission's City Light Home for Women and Children.

The Walmart Foundation granted the Mission $30,000.00 for meals and shelter programs at their three facilities. "Our local Walmart stores have been great partners with us for years, but this is the first time that the Walmart Foundation has made a grant. We hope to continue to be worthy of their generous support." Roscoe said.

The Boise Rescue Mission provides shelter and three meals daily at three locations in the Treasure Valley: The River of Life Mission and City Light Home for Women and Children in Boise and the Lighthouse Mission in Nampa. The Mission also provides residential addiction recovery programs, job search programs, transitional housing, clothing and emergency food boxes at those locations.
